- I want to register for a course with available quota but the system does not allow me to register for it. Why?
  There can be two reasons. These are:
    1. The course may have a seat reservation restriction. For more information, please see the course registration document.
    2. The course is not included in your curriculum. For more information, please check the course's CDF.

- When will the seat reservation restriction be lifted?
  The seat reservation restriction is generally lifted on the last day of course registrations.

- Will the course quota be increased?
  The course quota is increased based on course capacity. Therefore, it is not possible to increase the quota of all courses. If the quota is increased, you will be notified. Please follow the quota increase announcements of Student Services.

- I could not complete my semester credit load. What should I do?
  You can consult your academic advisor about how to complete the remaining credits. (You can check your Academic Advisor via SIS system)

- I missed the course add/drop/withdrawal dates. But I want to add/drop a course. What should I do?
  Students who are unable to add/drop/withdraw their courses during the announced dates can submit a petition. However, the student's petition is first submitted to the Faculty Executive Board members and then the Rector for approval. If the Rector approves the petition, the student may add/drop the course.
